

Web Pricing

Last Updated Friday, 19 February 2010

Every web site is different and the costs vary based on each project's specific needs. Ultimately, we would need to give you an estimate once we discuss the scope of your site. However, the following is intended to give you pricing guidelines to help you have an idea of the ballpark costs associated with developing a web site.

Web Site hosting through 3rd Party Host: $85 to $100 per year

Typically Includes

- Your own domain name for your site (i.e. www.yourbusinessname.com)
- 500 gb of disk storage
- 999 email addresses using your domain name (i.e. name@yourbusinessname.com)

Web Site Creative Development:

$500 to $750 approximate range

Services typically includes:

- Development of creative design & layout
- Creation of 2 to 3 web pages using your provided content

- Administrative service to upload your pages to your web host
- 1-year support for minor site changes

$750 to $1,500 approximate range

Services typically includes:

- Development of creative design & layout
- Generation of written material for web pages
- Creation of 6 to 8 web pages
- Photography at your location
- Administrative service to upload your pages to your web host
- 1-year support for minor site changes

$1,500 to $3,000 approximate range

Services typically includes:

- Development of creative design & layout
- Graphic and logo creation
- Generation of written material for web pages
- Creation of 15+ web pages
- Advanced elements such as shopping carts for e-commerce and credit card payments
- Photography at your location & products

- Administrative service to upload your pages to your web host
- 1-year support for minor site changes